103. Francotte 470 Nitro Express Double Rifle, 1928, Made for Griffin & Howe, 26" Ejector Bbls, Excellent Bores, 50% Original Case Colors – Oak and leather case, Excellent Condition, #85100
Francotte Details:

A Francotte 470 Nitro Express Double Rifle made for H. Mahillon in Brussels, Belgium, in 1928, and then imported by Griffin & Howe, and marked on the barrels, "Expressly Made For Griffin & Howe, Inc., New York City." This piece was ordered by Griffin & Howe from Mahillon, but was made by Francotte and so marked on the barrel flats. Mahillon's name is on the floorplate. This Pre-War Quality Boxlock comes with 26" Ejector dovetail lump barrels with a rib extension crossbolt that is hidden. It has a ¼ rib with 1 standing and 2 folding rear sights, a 180-degree spring-loaded fold-over sight protector with a fold-up night sight. The action body with bushed strikers, bolstered shoulders, extended top tang that goes over the comb. Double triggers. It has four retainer screws on key screws, 14 ½" LOP over a 1" Silvers pad, 10 lbs 12 ozs. The wood is very solid in every respect. Trapdoor grip cap with two spare strikers and a replaceable front sight with the night sight, Sling eyes, Shadowline cheekpiece. It has 85% coverage of period scroll engraving. It retains 50% original case colors. The bores are excellent with square rifling from throat to muzzle. It is smack on the face and remains as tight as new. The whole is cased in a very nice Deluxe Oak & Leather trunk with oak wainscot, a canvas cover and done by Marvin Huey. The case with turnscrews, oil bottle and snap caps. This piece is one tough, high-quality Belgium piece from the Golden Era of gun making by the great firm of Francotte.
